over

The considerable difference between these figures and Dr. Tyacke's, Westgate meadow (which is not more than 3/4 of a mile away as the crow flies) is accounted for by the Thunderstorm on $\left\{\begin{matrix}22\\23\end{matrix}\right\}$ July -

The measurement were carefully checked so that it is certain there was no mistake about them.

✓ denotes examination of rain guage.

s = snow.

d = dew.

The maximum daily-fall in each month is underlined in red ink.

The no of days on which ·005" or more fell in each month is written below the name of the month.

R Stanley Clarke.

'Homelea' was formerly known as 'Montpellier.' v. returns by Dr. G. Brown.

His raingauge was placed in the garden in a sheltered position. Mine was placed in an open field & surrounded only by iron railings.

I do not think that the height above sealevel of the guages (mine being somewhat higher) exceeds in any case 400 ft. The 475 ft. mentioned by Dr. Brown, as shown on the 1" Ordnance map (no 319) is really marks the summit point of the ridge above the place.

Note On August 22d there was very slight shower – the water was accidentally emptied out without its being measured – I think .05 is within two or three hundredths at least of the true quantity

To return already sent in should be added on July 16 — .75 of an inch.
and consequently to total for year also.
The amount was missed as it was in pencil in my book having not been inked in owing to the discrepancy of reading of two guages.

1 January 1894

Dear Mr Symons.

Herewith my Rain-fall returns for last year, with notes. I am coming to London on Tuesday could I see you that day if I call at Camden Square I will then bring my book containing the register of Bar, Ther, Anemometer & Sunshine Records.

Yours Sincerely
Henry King

G. J. Symons Esq. FRS &c &c.
62 Camden Square
London NW.

P. S. Please let me have another of the daily forms for rainfall - as I gave last year's to Major Thurlow and had to use this one, which you sent me a couple of days ago.
